Resume

I'm a freelance designer since 2012. In my career I've dealt with both traditional and digital design. In recent years I've been focused and I specialized in digital design especially on user interface and user interaction design of digital products like web sites, e-commerce, landing pages, web applications and native mobile applications. I also enjoy experimenting with micro-interactions and animations for prototyping purpose.

I am a meticulous and detail-oriented person and I like to organize my work in an orderly and clean way. I like sharing my knowledge with all my teammates and absorbing new ideas and approaches from others.

Job History

Imola Informatica Sep 2022 - Present

IMOLA

Senior User Interface Designer

I hold the position of Senior User Interface Design and I am responsible for the activities related to the design and maintenance of interfaces, design systems, and web accessibility. I am actively involved in handoff and QA tasks with the developers team.

Alkemy enabling evolution Jan 2020 - Sep 2022

Senior User Interface Designer

MILAN

I deal with the design of User Interface components and layouts for different type of projects and industries, studying and consolidating graphic rationals. I produce assets and resources for the developer team, building and maintaining design systems libraries, and also visual guidelines for marketing and communication departments.

I create micro and macro animations and interactions, producing videos, interactive prototypes and specific assets for implementation (Lottie .json, GIF, tokens etc).

As a Senior Designer, I'm responsible for the UI deliverables and the planning of the day-by-day activities within the team in order to respect the roadmap. I also guide and give my support to Junior figures when needed.

Bloo Srl Dec 2016 - Aug 2017

PESCARA

Visual and Web Designer

I followed internal and external projects as a consultant in the fields of graphic design and web design. I also played the role of tutor as an expert reference for the youngest students, during training courses and internships promoted by the company, on site.

Jamgle Dec 2013 - Aug 2016

CHIETI

Visual & UI Designer - CSS/HTML Developer

Jamgle was a revolutionary webapp that allowed users to produce collective and collaborative music videos. A platform where you could create content with friends directly online in a simple way and share them just like a post. As Product Designer I managed all aspects of visual identity and strategy through Graphic Design, Web Design, UI Design, UX Design, but also frontend development in CSS3 (with LESS precompiler) and HTML5, collaborating with the front-end developer to implement the webapp based on React technology. I produced icons sets, illustrations, infographics, materials for social media marketing, digital and traditional media supports for internal and external corporate communication.
